

Prepare to obtain employment in the automotive industry. Learn to repair and/or replace automotive glass, interior and exterior components of the vehicle, and restore the structural integrity of damaged vehicles. Graduates of this program may find employment in the automotive industry as automotive collision repair technicians, refinishing preparation technicians, or auto glass technicians. International students are not eligible to register in apprenticeship courses at VCC beyond those included in their program.

